This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. A DICTIONARY OF BOOKS

RELATING TO AMERICA.

RANKLIN (Benjamin).] An Account of the New Invented Pennsylvanian Fire-Places; Wherein their Construction and Manner of Operation is particularly explained; Their Advantage above every other Method of Warming Rooms obviated. With Directions for putting them up, and for Using them to the best Advantage. And a Copper-Plate, in which the several Parts of the Machine are exactly laid down, from a scale of equal Parts. Philadelphia: Printed and Sold by B. Franklin. 1744. 8vo, pp. 37. Folded Plate. P. 25490

This is doubtless the Franklin Stove, invented (?) by Franklin, and the pamphlet is probably written by him. Frequently reprinted in Europe and America. See Sparks' Franklin, vi. 34.

[FRANKLIN.] An Appeal, 1775. See Vol. I., No. 1783.

FRANKLIN. Autobiography of Benjamin Franklin, Published by W. T. Franklin. Edited by Jared Sparks. London: H. G. Bohn. 1850. 12mo, pp. vi, 154. 25491

Of another edition of this there was a Dutch translation published at the Hague in 1828, 12mo.

FRANKLIN. Autobiography of Benjamin Franklin. Edited from his Manuscript, with Notes and an Introduction. By John Bigelow. Philadelphia: J. B. Lippincott & Co. 1868. 12mo, pp. 410. Portrait. H. 25492

One hundred copies printed on large paper, imp. 8vo.

FRANKLIN. Benjamin Franklin, his Autobiography, with a Narrative of his Public Life and Services, by Rev. H. Hastings Weld. New York: Harper & Brothers. [1848.] 8vo, pp. xvi, (2), 549. B. 25493

First issued in monthly parts. Frequently reprinted; the last, New York. 1859.

[FRANKLIN.] Cool Thoughts on the Present Situation of our Public Affairs, In a Letter to a Friend in the Country. Philadelphia: Printed by W. Dunlap. M,DCC,LXIV. 8vo, pp. 22. S.

FRANKLIN. Correspondance inédite et secrète du Docteur B. Franklin, Ministre Plénipotentiaire des États-Unis d'Amérique près la Cour de France. Depuis l'année 1753 jusqu'en 1790; offrant, en trois parties complètes et bien distinctes, 1° les mémoires de sa vie privée; 2° les causes premières de la révolution d'Amérique; 3° l'histoire des diverses négociations entre l'Angleterre, la France et les États-Unis. Publiée, pour la première fois, en France, avec des notes, additions, etc. Paris. M. DCCC.-XVII. 2 vols., 8vo. Portrait. [Ibid.] 1827. 25497

[FRANKLIN.] A | Dissertation | on | Liberty and Necessity, | Pleasure and Pain. | London: | Printed in the Year MDCCXXV. | 8vo, pp. 32. 25498

So rare, that in Puttick's catalogue 1860, it is said to be "unique. This is the long-lost and much sought-for wicked tract of the youth, Benjamin Franklin. It eluded even the research of Mr. Sparks, who ransacked European and American libraries for it, and says" (Vol. VIII., p. 405), "No copy of this tract is now known to be in existence." Franklin, in his autobiography, says, "I printed a small number. It occasioned my being more considered by Mr. Palmer as a young man of some ingenuity, though he seriously expostulated with me upon the principles of my pamphlet." In a letter to his friend Benjamin Vaughan, he wrote, "There were only a hundred copies printed, of which I gave a few to friends; and afterwards ... burnt the rest, except one copy, ... I was not nineteen years of age when it was written. In 1730, I wrote a piece on the other side of the question. ... This pamphlet was never printed." See "Notes and Queries," Jan. 3, 1852, from which it appears it was reprinted in sixteen pages. It has never been reprinted in any of the editions of Dr. Franklin's works. It is priced in the Nuggets, No. 1098, at £10 10s. Twenty-five copies were reprinted, in facsimile, by Charles Whittingham, for Henry Stevens, of London, about 1854.

[FRANKLIN.] An Essay on the African Slave Trade. Philadelphia: Printed by Daniel Humphreys. M.DCC.XC. 8vo, pp. 15.

FRANKLIN. Essays Humourous, Moral and Literary. By Benjamin Franklin. Boston. 1811. 12mo, pp. 182, (2). + London. [n. d.] 18mo, pp. 144. 25500

Frequently reprinted in America and England. Also translated into French, Paris. 1867. 16mo.

FRANKLIN. The Examination of Doctor Benjamin Franklin, before an August Assembly, relating to the Repeal of the Stamp-Act, &c. [n. p. 1766.] 8vo, pp. 16. P. 25501

No title-page; probably printed at Philadelphia. Another edition, also without date or place, has 23 pages, 8vo. It was reprinted in London as

FRANKLIN. The | Examination | of | Doctor Benjamin Franklin, | Relative to the | Repeal | of the | American Stamp Act, | in MDCCLXVI. London, MDCCLXVII. | 8vo, pp. (2), 50. BA., H.

Mr. Rich quotes this title with the words, "before an Honourable Assembly." This edition we have not seen. See Sparks' Franklin, IV. 199, and "M. Rev.," XXXVII. 73.

FRANKLIN. Die Verhörung Doctor Benjamin Franklin's vor der Hohen Versammlung des Hauses der Gemeinen von Groszbrittannien, die Stämpel-Act, &c. betreffend. Philadelphia: Gedruckt bey S. Miller. 1766. 8vo, pp. 43. P. 25503

A German translation of the preceding.

FRANKLIN. Interrogatoire de Mr Franklin Deputé de Pensilvanie au Parlement de la Grande Bretagne. Traduit de l'Anglois par Ch . . . . D. H . . . . Maitre de la langue Angloise à Strasbourg. Prix 24 sols. [Colophon:] A Strasbourg: de l'Imprimerie de Simon Kürsner. [n. d.] Avec Approbation. 8vo, pp. 35. C. 25504

FRANKLIN. Experiments and Observations on Electricity made at Philadelphia, in America, By Mr. Benjamin Franklin, Esq. London: E. Cave. 1751. 4to. Plates. 25505

For the second and third editions, see New Experiments, No. 25559, infra.

FRANKLIN. Experiments and Observations on Electricity, made at Philadelphia in America, by Benjamin Franklin, LL.D. and F.R.S. To which are added, Letters and Papers on Philosophical Subjects. The Whole Corrected, Methodized and Improved, and now first collected into one Volume, And Illustrated with Copper-Plates. [Fourth Edition.] London: Printed for David Henry. MDCCLXIX. 4to, pp. (iii), 496, (16). 7 Plates. C., H. + The Fifth Edition. London: J. Newbery. M.DCC.-LXXIV. 4to, pp. (2), vi, 514, (16). 7 Plates. 25506

FRANKLIN. Familiar Letters and Miscellaneous Papers of Benjamin Franklin; now for the first time Published. Edited by Jared Sparks. ... With Explanatory Notes. London: Jackson and Walford. 1833. Cr. 8vo, pp. xvi, 295. B. 25507

See "N. Am. Rev.," xxxvii. 249, and our No. 25494, supra.

FRANKLIN. Father Abraham's Speech To a Great Number of People, at a Vendue of Merchant-Goods; Introduced to the Public by Poor Richard, A Famous Pennsylvania Conjurer, and Almanack-Maker, In Answer to the following Questions; Pray, Father Abraham, what think you of the Times? Won't these heavy Taxes quite ruin the Country? How shall we be ever able to pay them? What would you advise us to? To which are added, several curious Pieces of Writing. Dedham: Printed by H. Mann, for Wm. Tileston Clapp, Boston. 1807. 12mo, pp. 24. H. + New London. [n. d.] + New Haven. [n. d.] 12mo, pp. 16. 25508

There are many other editions of this popular piece.

[FRANKLIN.] A few Reasons in favour of Vendues. [Printed by B. Franklin and D. Hall. About 1772.] Folio, 1 l. P.

FRANKLIN. Franklin before the Privy Council, Whitehall Chapel, London, 1774, on behalf of the Province of Massachusetts, to Advocate the Removal of Hutchinson and Oliver. Philadelphia: John M. Butler. 1859. 8vo, pp. v, 134. Plate.

Privately printed, and scarce.

FRANKLIN. Franklin's Letters to his Kinsfolk, Written during the Years 1818, '19 & '20, from Edinburgh, London, the Highlands of Scotland, and Ireland. Philadelphia: J. Maxwell. 1822. 2 vols., 18mo, pp. ——; 200. 25511

[FRANKLIN.] An Historical Review of the Constitution and Government of Pennsylvania, From its Origin; So far as regards the several Points of Controversy, which have, from Time to Time, arisen between the several Governors of that Province, and Their several Assemblies. Founded on Authentic Documents. ... London: R. Griffiths. MDCCLIX. 8vo, pp. viii, 9 l., pp. 444. 25512

Generally attributed to Franklin, but perhaps by his son William. "It has recently been ascertained, however, that he was not, in fact, the author, although it was written under his direction, and doubtless from copious material furnished by him." — SPARKS' Franklin, III. 109. See also "M. Rev.," XXI. 367. Mr. Rice's copy is printed on very thick paper, and is perhaps unique. The editor of the following edition apparently had no doubt as to the authorship:

FRANKLIN. An Historical Review of Pennsylvania, From its Origin, Embracing, among other subjects, the Various Points of Controversy which have arisen, from time to time, between the several Governors and the Assemblies. Founded on Authentic Documents. By Benjamin Franklin, LL.D. [Originally Published in London.] Philadelphia: Published by E. Olmsted and W. Power. 1812. 8vo, pp. xv–xxxvi, 431. C. 25513

Forms Vol. II. of the edition of Franklin's Works, in 6 vols. Some copies have the imprint, Philadelphia: W. Duane. 1808.

FRANKLIN. Information for those who would remove to America. By Dr. Benjamin Franklin. London: M. Gurney. 1794. 8vo, pp. 23. + London. 1796. 4to. H. 25514

Sparks says it was first published in England in 1784, and afterward 1787, included in Dilly's edition of Franklin's Works. See Sparks' Franklin, II. 453.

FRANKLIN. Bericht für Diejenigen so sich nach Nordamerika begehen wollen: aus dem Englischen. Hamburg: Herold. 1786. 8vo. 25515

[FRANKLIN.] Interest of Great Britain, 1760. See [Jackson (Richard)].

FRANKLIN. Internal State of America. Being a True Description of the Interest and Policy of that vast Continent. London. 1784. 8vo. 25516

I have never seen this pamphlet, and infer the title from Sparks' Franklin, II. 453, where it is said to be reprinted in Dilly's edition of Franklin's Works, in 1787.

FRANKLIN. Jugenbjahre, von ihm selbst beschrieben und aus dem Englischen übersetzt von G. U. Bürger. Berlin: Rottmann. 1792. 8vo. 25517

Written and printed by B. Franklin. Shehaes, one of the slain, had assisted in the second treaty (1701) with Wm. Penn. Twenty-two unoffending, innocent Indians, old men, women, and children, who had long lived at peace with and among the whites, were murdered, with every circumstance of cowardly cruelty, by a mob of the Presbyterian settlers, calling themselves the Paxton Boys, led on by the Rev. Mr. Elder, persuading themselves they were doing God's work. Mr. Field, in his "Indian Bibliography," characterizes this massacre as "the most horrible picture of human phrensy this continent ever saw"

[FRANKLIN.] Necessary Truth; or Seasonable Considerations for the Inhabitants of the City of Philadelphia, and Province of Pennsylvania. In relation to the Pamphlet call'd Plain Truth: and Two other Writers in the News-Paper. Philadelphia: printed in the Year MDCCXLVIII. 8vo, pp. 16. P. 25558

Franklin.* | 12mo, pp. 36. 25567

Continued to 1761 by B. Franklin; after this year, to 1766, it was Printed and sold by B. Franklin and D. Hall. 12mo, all with pp. 36. It was continued by Hall and Sellers, Philadelphia, to 1794 or later. To the almanac for 1758 is prefixed a collection of the Proverbs, etc., scattered through the previous numbers. These sayings were frequently reprinted in England as the "Way to Wealth," and in French as the "La science du bonhomme Richard." Stevens, in his "Nuggets," No. 1110, has also reprinted them. The almanac for 1758 is the most rare and valuable of the series. The almanacs for 1733–1741 were reprinted and adapted to the years 1850, 1851, and 1852, as below:

FRANKLIN. "Poor Richard." Poor Richard's Almanac for 1850, [1851], [1852] as Written by Benjamin Franklin, for the Years 1733–1734–1735. [1736–1737] ... The Astronomical Calculations ... adapted to Boston, New-York, ... To which is added, ... the Life of the Great Philosopher, Written by Himself. ... New-York: John Doggett, Jr. 1849–50. 3 vols., 12mo, pp. 60. B., H. 25568

FRANKLIN. Posthumous and other Writings, (not contained in his Collected Works, Published from the Originals, by his Grandson, W. T. Franklin). London: H. Colburn. 1819. 2 vols., 8vo. 25569

These are Vol. v. of vi. of our No. 25545, supra, with new title-pages.

FRANKLIN. The Private Correspondence of Benjamin Franklin, ... comprising a Series of Letters ... Illustrating the Memoirs of his Public and Private Life. ... Published from the Originals, by his Grandson, Wm. Temple Franklin. London: Henry Colburn. 1817. 4to, pp. xxiii, (2), 449. H. + Second Edition, with Additions. London: H. Colburn. 1817. 2 vols., 8vo, pp. xxiv, 486; xi, 475. Plate. C. 25571

The quarto edition forms Vol. ii. of our No. 25545, supra. The 8vo forms Vols. iii. and iv. The title-pages of the fourth edition sometimes vary.

[FRANKLIN.] Proposals relating to the Education of Youth in Pennsylvania. Philadelphia. M.DCC.XLIX. 8vo, pp. 32. BA.

In the advertisement prefixed to this pamphlet, letters on the subject are requested to be addressed to B. Franklin, Printer, &c., from which it appears probable that Franklin was the author.

[FRANKLIN.] Remarks on a late Protest against the Appointment of Mr. Franklin an Agent for this Province. [B. Franklin: Philadelphia. Nov. 5th, 1764.] 8vo, pp. 7. C. 25576

This was an answer to "A Protest against the Appointment of Mr. Franklin an Agent for Pennsylvania. 1764." 8vo, which, in its turn, was answered by

FRANKLIN. An Answer to Mr. Franklin's Remarks, on a late Protest. Philadelphia: William Bradford. M.DCC.LXIV. 8vo, pp. 22. P. 25577

A very furious attack on Dr. Franklin. "There is ample room to show how diametrically opposite his principles have been at different times; how he has paid servile court to all sides, deceived all, calumniated all!" — Page 21.

[FRANKLIN.] Remarks concerning the Savages of North America. Birmingham. 1784. 8vo. 25578

In an advertisement to this tract it is stated that it was written by Dr. Franklin, and taken from a copy printed by himself, for his own amusement, at his house at Passy. "It is strongly marked by that plainness and simplicity of manner, accompanied by that point and poignancy, which distinguish the doctor's writings, whenever he chooses to indulge his vein of pleasantry." — M. Rev., LXXI. 70. Reprinted in Two Tracts. See our No. 25594, supra.

[FRANKLIN.] Report of Dr. Benjamin Franklin, and other Commissioners, charged by the King of France, with the Examination of the Animal Magnetism, as now practised at Paris. Translated from the French. With an Historical Introduction. London: J. Johnson. 1785. pp. xx, 123. 25579

The Freeman's Oath. 1839. 25791

Thomas's "History of Printing" says, "In January, 1639, printing was first performed in that part of North America which extends from the gulph of Mexico to the frozen ocean." The first press and font of type were imported by Rev. Jesse Glover, who defrayed a part of the expense, the balance being contributed by several gentlemen in New England and Amsterdam. A London printer, called Stephen Daye, came at the same time with the printing apparatus, in 1638, and the office was located in Cambridge, Massachusetts. "The first thing which was printed," says Winthrop, "was 'The Freeman's Oath;' the next was an almanac made for New England, by Mr. William Peirce, mariner," both of which, according to Thomas, were issued in 1639. We have been unable to ascertain whether there are any copies in existence of these two publications. Mr. S. F. Haven is of opinion that "The Freeman's Oath" was printed on one side of a sheet of small paper. See Harrisse's "Bibl. Am. Vetustissima."

This is a visionary voyage in verse. The author does not say whence he came, but arrives at a river in Massachusetts; the native genius of North America presents him with a mantle which renders him invisible; he then proceeds to General Gage's mansion, and makes his observations on General Gage, Admiral Greaves, Lord Percy, and others. I am indebted to Mr. C. F. Harris, of Providence, for corrections of this list.

No more published.

FREYTAG (J. D.) Mémoires, contenant des détails sur les déportés du 18 fructidor à la Guyane française; la relation des principaux événements qui se sont passés dans cette colonie pendant la révolution ... ses voyages dans les diverses parties de l'Amérique; l'histoire de son séjour parmi les Indiens de ce continent; accompagnés de notes historiques, topographiques et critiques par M. C. de B. [Couvray de Beauregard]. Paris: Nepveu. 1824. 2 vols., 8vo. 25823

Quérard appears to think that Couvray de Beauregard is more than the annotator of these memoirs.

FREZIER (Amédée François). Relation du Voyage de la Mer du Sud aux côtes du Chily et du Perou, Faits pendant les années 1712, 1713 & 1714. ... Par M. Frezier, Ingenieur Ordinaire du Roy. ... Ouvrage enrichi de quantité de Planche, en Taille-douce. Paris: Jean-Geoffroy Nyon. M DCC XVI. 4to, pp. xix, 298, (2). 23 Maps and 14 Plates. + Amsterdam: Pierre Humbert. M,DCC,XVII. 2 vols., 12mo, pp. xx, 294; Title, pp. 297–600. 37 Maps, and Plates. B., C. 25924

At page 577 of the Amsterdam edition will be found a "Mémoire touchant l'etablissement des P. P. Jésuites dans les Indes d'Espagne." This curious relation relative to the missions of Paraguay is not by Frezier. It originally appeared [at Amsterdam] in 1712, as a separate publication.

FREZIER. Relation du Voyage de la Mer du Sud aux Côtes du Chily et du Perou, Fait pendant les années 1712, 1713, & 1714. Dediée à S. A. R. Monseigneur Le Duc D'Orleans, Regent du Royaume. Avec une Réponse a la Preface critique Du Livre intitulé, Journal des Observations Physiques, Mathematiques & Botaniques du R. P. Fevillée, contre la Relation du Voyage de la Mer du Sud, & une Chronologie des Vicerois du Perou, depuis son établissement jusqu'au tems de la Relation du Voyage de la Mer du Sud. Par M. Frezier, Ingenieur Ordinaire du Roy. Ouvrage enrichi de quantité de Planches en Taille-douce. A Paris: Nyon, Didot, Quillau. M.DCC.XXXII. 4to, Half-Title, 14 l., pp. 298, (2), 63. 37 Maps, and Plates.

Merely a new title-page, and a supplement of sixty-three pages added to the quarto edition of 1716. The supplement consists of Frezier's reply to Father Feuillée's criticisms in the preface to his third volume (1725).

FREZIER. A Voyage to the South Sea, And along the Coasts of Chili and Peru, in the Years 1712, 1713, and 1714. Particularly describing The Genius and Constitution of the Inhabitants, as well Indians as Spaniards: Their Customs and Manners; their Natural History, Mines, Commodities, Traffick with Evrope, &c. By Monsieur Frezier, Engineer in Ordinary to the French King. Illustrated with 37 Copper-Cutts of the Coast, Harbours, Cities, Plants and other Curiosities: Printed from the Author's Original Plates inserted in the Paris Edition. With a Postscript by Dr. Edmund Halley, Savilian Professor of Geometry in the University of Oxford. And an Account of the Settlement, Commerce, and Riches of the Jesuites in Paraguay. London: Jonah Bowyer. MDCCXVII. 4to, pp. (14), 335, (9). 37 Plates.

This English translation contains the same engravings as the original, and is preferable to the latter by reason of Halley's postscript, in which some geographical errors of Frezier are corrected. On page 147 is an interesting account of Guano. There are copies with the date 1735, which are the same edition, with a new title-page.

FREZIER. Reis-Beschryving door de Zuid-Zee langs de Kusten van Chili, Peru en Brazil, opgestelt op eene Reistocht gedaan in de jaren 1712, 1713 en 1714. Nevens eene Beschryvinge van de Regeringe der Yncas, Koningen van Peru, en hun ryk, zo als het was voor den komst der Spanjaarden aldaar. Het eene uit het Fransch vertaalt, en het andere opgemaakt uit verscheide Schryveren. Door Isaac Verburg. ... Te Amsterdam: R. en G. Wetstein. 1718. 4to, 7 l., pp. 406, (9). 19 Maps and 13 Plates. c. 25927

Also on thick paper. There are copies dated 1727, which are the same edition, with a new title-page.

FREZIER. Allerneueste Reise nach der Süd See und denen Kusten von Chili, Peru und Brasilien. Aus dem Frantzösischen übersetzet und mit vielen saubern Kupfern versehen. Hamburg: Thomas von Wierings. 1718. 12mo, pp. 416. Maps and Plates.

FREZIER. Reise nach der Süd-See und denen Kusten von Chili, Peru, und Brasilien. Aus dem Französischen übersetzet und mit vielen saubern Kupfern versehen. Zum andernmal herausgegeben, und mit einem Anhang aus der in den Jahren 1740 bis 1744 von dem beruhmten Engl. Commandeur Georg Anson, nach der Süd See, oder meistens um die ganze welt, gethanenen reise vermehret. Hamburg: Thomas von Wietings Erben. 1745. 8vo, 2 l., pp. 640. 5 Maps and 6 Plates. 25929

FREZIER. Reponse à préface critique du livre intitulé: Journal des observations physiques, etc., du P. Feuillée, contre la Relation du voyage de la mer du Sud. Paris: Ravenel. 1727. 4to. 25930

This is also added to the second edition of the "Relation du voyage," etc. "Frezier was not a sea-commander, but an officer of engineers in the French service. His Journal is one of observation and description, his researches being professedly directed to supply what was wanting in the Journal of Pere Feuillée. His Relation contains much, both of the natural and civil history of Chili and Peru." — BARTLETT.

"This complaint of some of the members of the Low Dutch Reformed Church, in regard to the conduct of Dominie Jacobus Frilinghuysen, in conjunction with his consistories, is a vindication of certain members of the Dutch churches on and near the Raritan River, who had been expelled from the Church by sentence of Mr. Frilinghuysen. These members had accused him of preaching false doctrine in insisting upon the necessity of regeneration, and of unjustly excluding them from partaking of the Holy Communion in consequence of their alleged unworthiness. He first admonished them of their conduct, and then cited them to appear before the consistories, and on their failure to do so, expelled them. Hence this published reply. The book was written by a lawyer of New York, the brother of Henricus Boel, of that city, who took sides with the members of the Church." — J. R. BARTLETT. "The preface is signed in the name of sixty-five members of the Dutch Reformed Church, whose names are all given, by their representatives: Pieter Dumont, Justice of Peace at Raritans; Simon Wyckof, Deacon at Drie Myl Run; and Daniel Sebering, Treasurer of the church at Nord-Branch. Very rare." — F. MULLER.

The woodcut represents Frobisher in a canoe, throwing darts at wild fowl, and the Greenlanders in their costume. This woodcut is sometimes supplied from the later edition, described below. This is the first Latin edition of his second voyage in 1577. It is translated from Chippin's French version of George Best's discourse (see our Vol. II., No. 5051), is not easily found, and scarcely ever with the plate. See "Bibliotheca Grenvilliana."

Forms Vol. XXXVIII. of the "Hakluyt Society Publications." See also Settle (D.) The author was born near Doncaster, in Yorkshire, and acquired great skill in navigation. The discovery of a north-west passage to the Indies excited his ambition, and after many attempts, he was enabled, by the ministers of Queen Elizabeth, to fit out a private adventure of two barks and a pinnace, in which he entered the strait ever since called by his name; he returned to England with some ore, supposed to contain gold, which induced Queen Elizabeth to patronise a second and third voyage, but without success. He accompanied Sir Francis Drake to the West Indies, and at the defeat of the Spanish Armada he commanded one of the largest ships in the fleet, and was knighted by Queen Elizabeth for his services.

Generally considered as the fourth volume of Dampier's collection, although there is no indication that it was intended for such at the time of its publication. Funnell "arrived in England before Dampier, and seized on the opportunity to compose a relation of his voyage, a task for which he was ill qualified, and which he performed with disadvantage to the public. Knapton, the publisher of Dampier's voyages, tempted by the favorable reception of the latter, added Funnell's voyage to them as a fourth." His narrative contained much that was disapproved by Captain Dampier, who immediately after published a "Vindication of his Voyage," pointing out the misrepresentations of Funnell. This brought out "An Answer" from John Welbe, a midshipman on board Captain Dampier's ship, in which he charges the captain with barbarous treatment of his crew. See Dampier (W.), Vol. v.

Cotes*, ... | ... 1648. | Folio, pp. (10), 220, Contents, (12).

First edition of this curious work, which "appears to have been much celebrated in its time."—Rich. "The author was probably 'Parson of Deale.' In the second and third editions, after expurging from the dedication certain passages in honor of Fairfax, the remainder were dexterously converted into a preface; and the twenty-second chapter, as containing particulars relative to the artifices used by the 'Pafulins' to convert the writer, totally omitted. This preface was afterwards printed separately." —Wrangham. Southey's "Omniana," i. 113–119, informs us that part of the book is taken, verbatim et literatim, from Thomas Nicholas' translation of Gomara. Gage uses the word "party" in its modern slang sense of "individual." He belonged to the Dominican order, originally, but joined the English Church before he wrote his travels. He appears to have been a believer in witchcraft and sorcery, and admits into his work many curious relations on those subjects. Priced, in the "Nuggets," at £1 11s. 6d.

GALARDI (P. Ferdinand de). Traicté politique touchant les Ambassades, Ligues et les Ordres Militaires d'Espagne. Cologne: [Elzevier.] 1666. Frontispiece. 26342

Very rare. Title and note from an English catalogue. "With a long dedication to Don Pedro Nuno Colon, Duc de Veraguas, respecting his ancestors of the family of Columbus. In it Galardi relates, not as a rumor, but as a positive fact, that a shipwrecked pilot, on his death-bed, communicated the existence of unknown lands to Christopher Columbus. It is evident Mr. Irving could never have seen this very scarce work, or he would not have ventured to have treated as a mere fable a circumstance here minutely detailed as the descendant of the family who held the high station of Grand Admiral of the Indies, and who must have been well aware whether his ancestor had received such information or not. If the fact had not been too well known and believed as true, Galardi would hardly have dared to insult the Duke by the insertion of a tale derogatory to the discoverer of America." Mr. Stevens, in his "Bibliotheca Geographica," gives the date as 1660, and adds a note: "This extraordinary little book, though compiled from Herera and other good Spanish authorities, is valued chiefly for its long and quaint dedication to Don Pedro Columbus, who is styled Grand Admiral of the Indies, Duke of Veragua, Duke of La Vega (in Santo Domingo), ... But the odd part of this dedication of Galardi is the cool repetition of the story of the Pilot of Madeira dying in the house of Columbus, and in gratitude for kindness revealing to him the discoveries he had made of lands in the West, thus relieving Columbus of the originality and honor of his discovery."

GALISTEO (J.) Remedio Natural para precaverse de los Rayos, y de sus funestos efectos. Secreto tan util, como curioso, sacado de las repetidas observaciones, y experiencias, que sobre la analogia de la electricidad con la materia de los rayos, ha estampado en Madrid año de 1757, en su Diario Philosophico Don Juan Galisteo. [Colophon:] Reimpresso en Mexico. [1758?] 4to, pp. 8. 26374

This tract treats of Dr. Franklin's discovery of the use of the lightning rod, and the use of the electrical machine, as set forth in his publication in London in 1751, how the matter was immediately taken up in France and Spain, and subsequently in Mexico, particularly in Puebla de los Angeles, where there is usually much lightning. The writer differs from Franklin and other philosophers as to the form and shape of the lightning rods. Instead of being pointed or square, as discussed in the Royal Society of London, this writer thinks the form of a cross would better secure the desired protection. The Holy Cross always strikes certain terror into the malignant spirits of the clouds, so that if Franklin's steel points were arranged in the form of a cross, they would become a more secure protection against the insults of the lightning!"—STEVENS.

[GALLOWAY (Joseph).] An Account of the Conduct of the War in the Middle Colonies. Extracted from a late Author. The Second Edition. London: Printed in the Year MDCCLXXX. 12mo, pp. 28. 26420

An attempt having been made in the House of Commons to show that the colonists are almost universally disaffected to the British government, and that their subjugation is impracticable, this tract attempts to prove the reverse of these statements. See Letters to a Nobleman, No. 26436, infra.

[GALLOWAY.] A Candid Examination of the Mutual Claims of Great-Britain, and the Colonies; with a Plan of Accommodation, on Constitutional Principles. By the Author of Letters to a Nobleman on the Conduct of the American War. New York: Printed by James Rivington. M.DCC.LXXV. 8vo, pp. 62. B., BA., H., P. + [London:] Republished by G. Wilkie, and R. Faulder. MDCCLXXX. 8vo, pp. 116. 26422

A well-written Tory tract. "The effect of illiberal motives and unworthy passions. A principal object of this pamphlet is to reprobate the proceedings of the Congress; and for this purpose the author labors to maintain the unlimited supremacy of Parliament over all the dominions of the crown, by arguments which have been often alleged, and sufficiently answered." — *M. "The conduct of Admiral Howe is severely criticised. He is charged with the most palpable and criminal negligence and misconduct, in regard to the prosecution of the American war, leaving the reader to account for it, if he can, from connections with opposition at home, from secret favor to the American defection, from views of private interest, or from coöperation of all these unworthy principles." See "M. [GALLOWAY.] Plain Truth: or, a Letter to the Author of Dispassionate Thoughts on the American War, In which the Principles and Arguments of that Author are Refuted, and the necessity of carrying on that War clearly demonstrated. By the Author of Letters to a Nobleman, ... London: G. Wilkie. MDCCLXXX. 8vo, pp. vii, 76. BA., J.C.B., C., H. 26440

The object of the writer is to show that Great Britain cannot, consistent with her own safety, give up her American colonies, while the other powers of Europe retain their colonies. He points out the causes of the want of success by the British army, with the means by which future success may attend them. "Strongly recommends a spirited prosecution of the war, in which he has not the least doubt of the complete success of the British arms; and he points out the policy by which America may be firmly and perfectly united with Great Britain."—*M. "A manly and spirited, though not a very correct production."—M. Rev., xxxii. 67. See Dickinson (John), Vol. v., No. 20051. Galloway at first espoused American Independency, but subsequently joined the home party and wrote against the Americans. He was undoubtedly the most distinguished and influential man among the American Loyalists. He abandoned his estate and property in Pennsylvania to the value of £40,000 sterling. "John Adams, in his 'Diary,' describes him as 'sensible and learned, but a cold speaker.' Franklin had confidence in his patriotism, and left in his charge in America a valuable collection of letter-books and papers, which were lost. His defection, from his well-known talents, was severely commented upon by the friends of the Revolution. Stiles, in his manuscript diary of the date of October 1, 1775, says: 'Mr. Galloway has also fallen from a great height into contempt and infamy; but he never was entirely confided in as a thorough son of liberty.' Trumbull, too, tells the story in 'McFingal,' how Galloway began by being a flaming patriot; but, being disgusted with his own want of influence, and the greater popularity of others, he turned Tory, wrote against the measures of Congress, and absconded."—DUYCKINCK's Cyclopædia of American Literature, i. 172. See Sparks' "Franklin," Vol. iii.

This translation is also a rare book, but is reprinted in the additions to the edition of Hakluyt's voyages, published by Evans in 1809. Hakluyt, in his preface, says, "The worke, though small in bulke, containeth so much rare and profitable matter, as I know not where to seeke the like, within so narrow and streite a compasse. ... Now touching the translation, it may please you sir, to be aduertised that it was first done into our language by some honest and well affected marchant of our nation, whose name by no meanes I could attain vnto. For it hath lien by me aboue these twelue yeares. In all which space though I have made much inquirie, and sent to Lisbon, where it seemeth it was printed, yet to this day I could neuer obtaine the originall copie; whereby I might reform the manifold errours of the translator." — HAKLUYT's Dedicatory Epistle. It is included in Osborn's "Collection of Voyages." Jadis' copy sold for eight pounds.

GALVAÕ. The Discoveries of the World from their First Original to the Year of our Lord 1555, by Antonio Galvano, Governor of Semate. Corrected, Quoted, and Published in England, by Richard Hakluyt, (1607). Now Reprinted, With the Original Portuguese Text; and Edited by Vice Admiral Bethune, C.B. London: Printed for the Hakluyt Society. M.DCCCLXII. 8vo, pp. (6), viii, 212. C. 26470

This edition includes the Portuguese text. Antonio Galvano was born at Lisbon in 1503. He embarked for India in 1527, where he soon distinguished himself. He was selected by the Viceroy Don Nunho da Cunha to reduce and govern the Moluccas. After a time he succeeded, as much by valor as by judicious conduct, in bringing these islands under Portuguese sway; and by exercising strict justice and kind dealing towards the natives, both rare in those days, he earned the title of "father of the country." Galvano was a man of rare talent, well versed in religious and secular knowledge, and also well instructed in warlike arts, both military and naval. Faria y Sousa sums up his high qualities in these words: "His fame will never perish so long as the world endures; for neither weak kings, nor wicked ministers, nor blind fortune, nor ages of ignorance, can damage a reputation so justly merited."

This second edition has many notes and additions by the editor, And. Gonzalez de Garcia. Clavigero pronounces it "a work of vast erudition, but almost totally useless, as it gives little or no assistance in discovering truth; the foundation for the opinions which he maintains concerning the origin of the Americans are, for the most part, weak conjectures founded on the resemblance of some of their customs and words, and those of other nations."—History of Mexico, Vol. I., p. xxv. "All that has ever been imagined as to the origin of the Americans, and the manner in which this New World was peopled, is gathered here, and set forth with endless, but not always necessary erudition."—CHARLEVOIX's New France, Vol. I. The fifth book contains the various native accounts of the origin of the Indians. The others comprise the experience of Garcia during many years sojourn in America, a summary of the various opinions of others, and his own deductions. Barcia's additions are considerable. This edition forms part of Barcia's collection, and some copies are printed on large paper.

GARIBAY Y CAMÁLLOA (E. de). Los quarenta libros d'el Compendio Historial de las Chronicas y Universal Historia de todos los Reynos de España. Compuestos por Estevan de Garibay. Anvers. 1571. 4 vols., folio. c. 26666

"The author's autograph is written on the back of the title-page. Where the copyright was of great importance (as the numerous privileges affixed to it show), it was not uncommon for the author thus to sign every copy. I am glad to possess a relic of Garibay, whom I love for his laborious life, and for the excellent simplicity with which he requests Phillp II. to employ a few of his leisure moments in reading these four volumes. Gave him my thanks, too; for I have borrowed his motto, which is as applicable to me as it was to him." — ROBERT SOUTHEY.

GARIBAY Y CAMÁLLOA. Compendio Historial [as in No. 26667]. Barcelona. 1628. 4 vols., sm. 4to. 26667

"A work of great intrinsic worth, and rare occurrence in a perfect condition. Meuseulius' account (borrowed from Antonio) of the plan, energies, judgments, and talent of Garibay, will make the 'young man' sigh, the 'old man' weep, if he do not speedily become master of it — and yet I look in vain for a copy of Garibay in many of our richest bibliopolistic catalogues." — DIBDIN's Library Companion. "Garibay, one of the most distinguished among the Spanish historians." — WASHINGTON IRVING.

"This valuable journal is of the highest importance for the history of America. Each number is divided into two parts, each of four pages, the second of them bearing the title 'Supplement aux Nouvelles' is very often entirely filled by the news from America. The editor of this Gazette, Mr. Luzac, was a very learned man, of high, liberal principles, who fostered and encouraged to his utmost the contest of American United States against England. He was in correspondence with the heads of the American Revolution, and especially with J. Adams. These relations enabled him to publish many of the most important documents, as he himself says, 'le premier en Europe.'" — MULLER.

[GEE (Joshua).] The Trade and Navigation of Great-Britain considered: Shewing That the surest Way for a Nation to increase in Riches, is to prevent the Importation of such Foreign Commodities as may be rais'd at Home. That this Kingdom is capable of raising within itself, and its Colonies, Materials for employing all our Poor in those Manufactures, which we now import from such of our Neighbours who refuse the Admission of ours. Some Account of the Commodities each Country we trade with takes from us, and what we take from them; with Observations on the Balance. London. 1729. 8vo. + The Second Edition. London: Sam. Buckley. 1730. 8vo, pp. (18), 147. + The Third Edition. To which is added, A Supplement. London: Sam. Buckley. 1731. 8vo, pp. (24), 164. + The Fourth Edition. London: A. Betteswortb and C. Hitcb. 1738. 12mo, pp. (24), 164. + Fifth Edition. Glasgow: R. & A. Foulis. 1750. 12mo, 12 l., pp. 180. + Sixth Edition. [Ibid.] 1755. 12mo. GEMELLI-CARERI (Giovanni Francesco). Giro del Mundo. Napoli. 1699. + Venezia. 1719. 9 vols., 12mo. Portraits and Plates. 26850

These travels were considered, for a long time, as fictitious; and Goldsmith, in his "Citizen of the World" (Letter 108), treats them as such. Baron von Humboldt, however, has proved that he certainly was in Mexico and at Acapulco, and that his descriptions have the charm of local tint which could only have been given by an ocular witness.

The part relating to South America, New Spain, etc., is very curious. An English translation will be found in the "Compendium of Authentic Voyages," 7 vols., 1756, and in Churchill's collection.

"That the discovery in question was neither advantageous to America nor to Europe, is a proposition that many believe; and this author illustrates it, and renders it striking; but that it might have been, and may even yet be made useful to both, is equally credible. The principal object of this judicious writer is to point out the manner of diminishing the evils occasioned by the discovery of the New World, and of multiplying the advantages that may result from it. The work breathes a liberal spirit, and is worthy of attention." — Monthly Review.

"The most important part of this work is that which relates to the commencement and prosecution of the war with America. The author aims at impartiality, and nowhere discovers the zeal of a partisan. He is neither a determined Whig nor a pertinacious Tory, but seems to have made it a rule to steer a middle course. This volume is intended as a continuation to the history of the first ten years of the reign of George III., written apparently by a different author." See "M. Rev.," LXVII. 420.

Romæ, | Typis Guilelmi Facciotti. M.DC.XXXI. | Sm. 8vo, Engraved Title, pp. (10), 284, 36. 27116

A very scarce and curious volume on the discovery of the West Indies, written in 1524. Its writer was the intimate friend of Columbus, the one whose interest prevailed over Ferdinand to fit out the first expedition in search of unknown lands, and proved the feasibility of discovery by mathematical demonstration. Previous to being appointed Bishop of St. Domingo, he had been Ambassador to the Court of Henry VIII. of England. We learn from the twelve leaves of verses in commendation of the author and his travels by various writers, in Greek, Latin, Italian, French, German, Spanish, Hungarian, and English languages, the latter written by John Walker, that the bishop had had the charge of four queens, the greatest of whom was Catherine of Arragon, queen of Henry VIII.

GERMAINE (G.) Epistle to Lord George Germaine, in Verse, relating to the American War, &c. London. 1778. 4to.

GERMAINE. A Letter to Lord George Germaine. London: J. Almon. MDCCLXXVI. 8vo, pp. 38, Advt., 1 l. B., BA. 27142

"This writer sets forth, very circumstantially, the prodigious numbers and alarming power of the United Colonists by sea and land, and enumerates the unsurmountable difficulties that will impede in particular the operations of our land forces in every province. In short, that it will be impossible for us to succeed in the attempt of forcing the Americans to submission. Urges on Great Britain a discontinuance of the contest in America." — M. Rev., LIV. 328.

GERMAINE. A Letter to Lord George Germaine giving an Account of the Origin of the Dispute between Great Britain and the Colonies, with some Remarks on the Manner in which the War has been conducted. To which are added, certain Terms, humbly proposed as a ground-work of a Reconciliation. By a Gentleman for many years a resident in America. London: T. Whieldon. MDCCLXXVIII. 8vo, pp. 84. 27143

"A defense of the measures of the British government, in which the writer recommends that the independency of the Americans should never be acceded to." — M. Rev., LVIII. 477.

A very rare Italian poem on the discovery of America, etc. Unknown to Haym, and other bibliographers; nor was Dr. Cotton able to find any book printed at Jesi in the sixteenth century. Heber's copy sold for £1 11s. In the second edition of Cotton's "Typographical Gazetteer," under Essivm, he speaks of the existence of a press there from 1472 to 1475, but adds, "The duration of this establishment appears to have been very limited; we have no book before 1472, nor after 1475: nor is anything heard of a Jesi press in the following century."

[GOENS (R. M. van).] Politiek Vertoog over het waar Systema van Amsterdam met relatie tot de algemeene belangen der Republiek, benevens consideratien over den tegenwoord. oorlog, en het voorgevallene in 1777–80, mitsg. Deductie over de geheime onderhandelingen tusschen d. Pensionaris van Berkel en de Engelsche Colonien in Amerika, en het tractaat met dezelve gesloten te Aken 4 Sept. 1778. [Utrecht.] 1781. Folio, pp. 151. 2768

This political discussion relates to the secret negotiations between the Pensionary Berkel and the English colonies, and the treaty at Aix-La-Chapelle in 1778. "Extremely scarce, being printed privately at the author's expense, and only a very small number of copies. A counterfeit edition in 8vo, published against the will of the author, appeared in the same year. It strongly condemns the help indirectly granted by Amsterdam to the Americans."—F. MULLER. The peculiar views of this writer caused much controversy, and many pamphlets exist which relate partly to the aid rendered the Americans from Amsterdam. The autobiography (Eigen levensbeschryving) edited by H. W. T. Tydeman, and another biography by B. Ten Brink, will throw light on the subject.

To which is prefixed an Historical Abridgement of Discoveries in the North of America. By William Goldson. Portsmouth: W. Mowbray. M,DCC,XCIII. 4to, pp. xii, 162. Map. 27722

"The large 'Chart on Mercator's projection exhibiting the Tracks of Maldonado in 1598 and De Fonte in 1640, compared with the modern discoveries,' is very curious, considering it was made after much study in 1793. It shows that geographical lies are difficult to kill permanently dead as any others. Both the book and the map have and will have an increasing interest to those exploring the north-west coasts of North America. The bibliographical research of this author is as commendable as his judgment is untrustworthy."—STEVENS. See also "M. Rev.," XVI. 18.

J.C.B., J.C.BT. 27724

The first edition, of extreme rarity, and a work of the highest importance, concerning which see Ternaux, No. 61, Ticknor's "Spanish Literature," Vol. I., Prescott's "Conquest of Mexico," Vol. I., Robertson's "History," and Muñoz' "New World."

"Affords us the most authentic views of the primitive condition of the Indians before tyranny had crushed, or civilization had corrupted them."—T. W. FIELD. This work is indispensable to the student of Spanish affairs in America after the conquest, notwithstanding the charges made by Bernal Diaz against Gomara of occasional inaccuracy. The dedication to Charles v. begins with these remarkable words: "The greatest event which has happened since the creation of the world (leaving aside the incarnation and death of Him who created it) is the discovery of the Indies." Gomara prefixes a curious address to intending translators, warning them to be accurate and to measure the full significance of the pregnant Spanish phrases, also to pay special attention to proper names. He further declares that he is writing the book in Latin, and much fuller, so that the translators may take no trouble to put it into that language. His Latin version has never appeared. Antonio de Leon, p. 70, says: "It is a free history (historia libre), and was ordered by an ancient 'Cedula' of the Council of the Indies." He adds that Frisius made use of the geographical part in his edition of the Cosmography of Apianus. Reprinted by Barcia and Vedia.

Although the title and the collation of this and our No. 27724, are almost identical, it is absolutely another edition, as a comparison will show.

[GOMARA.] Conquista de Mexico. Segvnda parte de la Chronica general de las Indias Occidentales, su Historia, Geografia, Temperamento, Producciones, Usos, y Costumbres de los Naturales de ellas. Madrid. 1553. Folio. 27726

Called in by a Decree of the Council of the Indies, and long considered as a prohibited book, which may account for its mutilation. Title and note from a catalogue of Puttick & Simpson's, 1860. We have not seen this edition, and are at a loss to understand why it should be called in by a Decree of the Council, as the original edition bears the usual privileges. Perhaps the arms of Cortez in the second part of our No. 27724 caused some offence, for in our No. 27725 they are replaced by the Royal arms. Meusel III. 227, says that Gomara was prohibited by the Council of the Indies, but gives no authority, while Antonio states the contrary.

Sm. 8vo, pp. (32), Text, 287 l. + En Anvers, Iuan Bellero. 1554. Sm. 8vo, pp. (32), Text, 287 l. C.

These editions are alike, except in the imprint. The title calls for a "traça," but the map is not always present. Uricochea, Mapotheca Colombiana, Londres, 1860, p. 2, speaks of this map as "Very well engraved and extremely exact as compared with cotemporary ones." It is a woodcut 6x5 inches, and is one of the first maps of America of Spanish origin. This map is only found in the Bellero editions, and also in his edition of Levinus Appollonius of 1565 and 1567.

These two imprints are exactly alike. The Prima Parte, published in 1556, contains Cieza di Leone. We cannot find Arrivabene's edition of the third part, but Ziletti's (with 32 l., 402 l.) is quoted by Græsse and Leclerc. Arrivabene used Lucio Mauro's version, but Ziletti has it only in the second and third parts, in which last his name appears as translator. Ziletti's Cieza, and the three parts of the other four publishers, are from the version of Cravaliz, who, according to Pinelo, was a native of St. Sebastian.

[GOMARA.] Historia | dell' Indie | Occidentali, | ouero | Conqvista | della Provincia | d'Ivcatan, | Della marauigliosa Città di Messico, & d'altre | Prouincie ad essa sottoposte. | Nellaquale particolarmente si tratta dello scoprimento | della nuoua Spagna, dell'usanze & costumi di quelli | Indiani; accrescimento della fede Christiana, & d'altre | cose degne di memorial. | Tradotta di Lingua Spagnuola, da Lucio Mauro. | Con la Tauola delle cose più notabili, & con Priuilegio. | In Venetia, Appresso Barezzo Barezzi. 1599. | Sm. 8vo, 6 l., 2 l. blank, Tavola, 26 l., Text, 402 l.

This appears to be the last of the Italian editions, of which, with the trifling variations we have indicated, make no less than eighteen in twenty years, showing how much interest was felt in Italy respecting the conquests by Cortez and Pizarro.

Both editions are alike, except in the imprint. Mr. Lenox reports an edition dated 1568. Also quoted by Stück, No. 3314.

[GOMARA.] Histoire | Generalle | des Indes Occiden- | tales et Terres Nevves, | qui iusques à present ont | esté descouuertes. | Traduite en françois par M. Fumée Sieur | de Marley le Chastel. | A Paris. | Chez Michel Sonnius, rue sainct Iacques | à l'enseigne de l'Escu de Basle. | M.D.LXXVII. | Auec Priuilege du Roy. | 8vo, 6 l., Text, 355 l., Table, 29 l. + [Ibid.] M.D.LXXVIII. + [Ibid.] 1580. C. 27747

Ternaux, No. 169, quotes an edition, Paris, 1597; another, Paris, 1604.

GOMARA. Histoire | generalle | des Indes Occiden | tales, et terres | neuues, qui iusques à présent | ont esté descouuertes. | Augmentee en cette cinquiesme edition de la description de | la nouuelle Espagne, et de la grande ville de Me | xicque, autrement nommee, | Tenuctilan. | Composée en Espagnol par Fr. Lopez de Gomara et traduite en François par le S. de Genillé, Mart. Fumée. Paris: Michel Sonnius. MDLXXXIV. 8vo, 4 l., Text, 485 l., Table, 19 l. + [Ibid.] M.D.LXXXVII. + [Ibid.] 1605. C.

The last French version has the following title:

GOMARA. Histoire | Generalle | des Indes Occiden- | tales, et Terres | neuues, qui iusques à present | ont esté decouuertes. | Augmentee en ceste cinquiesme edition de la description de | la nouuelle Espagne, & de la grande ville de Me | xicque, autrement nommee, | Tenuctilan. | Composee en Espagnol par François Lopez de Go | mara, & traduite en François par le | S. de Genillé Mart. This contains more than the edition of 1578, pp. 67–198 being additional.

GOMARA. Voyages et | Conqvêtes dv | Capitaine Ferdinand | Courtois, es Indes | Occidentales. | Histoire, traduite de langue Espagnole | par Guillaume le Breton, Niuernois. | Paris: Abel l'Angelier. 1588. 12mo, 8 l., Text, 416 l. J.C.B. 27750

This translation of the Second Part of Gomara is very rare.

GOMARA. The | Pleasant Historie of the | Conquest of the VVeast India, | now called new Spayne, | Atchieued by the worthy Prince | Hernando Cortes Marques of the valley of | Huaxatac, most delectable to Reade: | Translated out of the Spa- | nishe tongue, by T. [GOMARA.] The | Pleasant Historie of | the Conquest of the | West India, now called | new Spaine. | Atchieued by the most woorthie Prince | Hernando Cortes, Marques of the Valley of | Huaxacac, most delectable to reade. | Translated out of the Spanish tongue, by T. N. Anno. 1578. | London: | Printed by Thomas Creede. | 1596. | 4to, pp. (12), 405, (6). Gothic letter. C., H. 27752

The "Epistle" is signed Thomas Nicholas. Lowndes erroneously calls this a translation of Bernal Diaz. It is the Second Part of Gomara's "Chronica de Nueva Espana," and is the only portion of the works of the "Father of American history" in English. See Beloe's "Anecdotes," Vol. VI., p. 11. The Laudatory Verses are by Stephen Gosson, author of "The School of Abuse." Although the two English editions have the same number of pages, they differ throughout.

GOMARA. Historia de la conquista de Hernando Cortés, escrita en español por Fr. Lopez de Gomara, traducida al mexicano y aprobada por verdadera por D. Juan Bautista de San Anton Muñon Chimalpain Quauhtlehuanitzin, India Mexicano. Publícala Carlos Maria de Bustamente. México: Ontiveros. 1826. 2 vols., 4to, pp. xiii, 315; (2), Title, pp. 187, (1). "Para immortalizar el valor heróico de los Indios Cascanes por causa de su libertad" ... 1827. pp. 39, Table, pp. (4). 27753

"The statement on the title of 'translated by Chimalpain' is merely parenthetical. Bustamente, when he had in his hands the MS. from which he printed the book, supposed it to be an original work by Chimalplain, but afterwards discovered that this Mexican, who flourished at the beginning of the seventeenth century, had only rendered Gomara's book into his own tongue. It is not clear from what original Bustamente has published the above volumes; he does not appear to have seen the Mexican text, and there is nothing, except a few words in chapter 62, to show any connection between the Spanish publication of Bustamente and the work of Chimalpain. As for the text it seems rather like a modern improvement of Gomara, than like a fresh translation from the Mexican version. However this may be, the editor's notes are copious and valuable. It should be stated, indeed, that a MS. professing to contain the Mexican text of Chimalpain's history, but according to the description, differing in its character from that of Gomara, was sold at the Abbé Fischer's sale in 1869." —QUARITCH. See also Brunet's "Manuel" and Trömel's "Bibl. "Ouvrage tiré du Chinois, et dans lequel parurent pour la première fois, en Europe, les caractères de cette langue. L'édition de Rome est rare."—BRUNET. In order of publication, this is the first European book in which Chinese characters occur; but actually it is the second, as one of Ortelius' maps, engraved in 1584, but not published till 1590, bears two Chinese words in the native character. According to Nicholas Antonio, the above Itinerary of the New World (which occupies leaves 268–368) was written by F. Martin Ignacio, and was never published separately. Translations were made into Latin, French, Italian, German, and English. The Itinerary gives curious details concerning the Canaries, St. Domingo, Jamaica, Cuba, Porto Rico, and especially Mexico. Ortelius, in his Atlas, declared that he had received more information concerning America, from this Itinerary than from any other single book. We have not seen the German or Flemish versions referred to in our note to 27782.

From the "Annales des Voyages," 1869. This memoir contains the last discovered document relating to the above voyage, together with a full resumé and critical investigations of it, which leave no doubt that the "Land of De Gonneville" was on the East coast of Brazil, about the R. San Francisco do Sul. Although the title below properly belongs to the letter P, we give it here. The author of it was a lineal descendent of Essomneric, the young native brought to France by De Gonneville.

One copy of the first, and three of the second, are in public libraries in Paris. For more details relating to this rare book, see Margry's "Navigations Françaises," 1867, and the Memoir above. Title quoted in Nyon's "La Vallière," 21395. In the "Additions," by Chaudon, to the "Nouveau Dictionnaire Historique," in 1772, and in other editions of them, this book figures under the curious title of Myer (Paul).

The Good Indian Missionary. Written for the American Sunday School Union ... Philadelphia. [n. d.] 18mo, pp. 36.

Good Humor; or, away with the Colonies. Wherein is occasionally enquired into, Mr. P——t's claim to Popularity; and the principles of virtuous Liberty as taught in the School of Mr. Wilkes, and other Peripatetics. London: W. Nicoll. 1766. 8vo.

A fiery attack upon the colonies and their defenders. The so-called Liberty preached by such scoundrels as "Mr. P——" (Lord Chatham), with whom are associated Wilkes and Churchill, is real Slavery! The colonists are worse than thieves, to resist the Stamp-Act, or any taxes imposed by their gracious monarch. See "M. Rev.," xxxiv. 238; also, Sparks' "Franklin," iv. 215.

"Collumbus and Magellian prowdly ventur'd,
Then Drake, Vesputius, and our Forbish enter'd:
Peruana and the Mexican are clear'd,
But the South regiones what they are unheard,
The words of wealth thence to our Lands accrue
And the many fertile Colonies insue."

It is dedicated to Elizabeth, Queen of Bohemia. Priced in the "Bibl. Angl. Poet.," at £12 12s.

The author says, there "are special times and seasons when the pulpit may treat of politics," and that the present occasion is one in which he shall dedicate his discourse to "the service of the public, the situation of whose affairs is, both distressing and alarming." Reprinted in Thornton's "Pulpit of the Revolution." The remarks of the patriotic minister was so severe on the government that they called forth the following two tracts.

By William Gordon, Pastor of the Third Church in Roxbury. Watertown: Benjamin Edes. MDCCLXXV. 8vo, pp. 29. B., BA., H. 28010

Published by request of the Massachusetts House of Representatives. This celebrated sermon was delivered at Watertown on the 19th July, about a month after the Battle of Bunker's Hill, and nearly a year before the Declaration of Independence, while the General Court was in Session there, having been driven out of Boston by the British troops. The truly republican text was from Jer. xxx. 20, 21—"And I will punish all that oppress them; and their nobles shall be of themselves, and their governor shall proceed from the midst of them."

There are copies of the English edition on fine and thick paper; the first American edition has a long list of subscribers' names. Gordon is deservedly reckoned as one of the most impartial and reliable of the numerous historians of the American Revolution. "This work deserves little encomium, but the merit of fidelity is the first qualification in a historian, and to that claim, we believe, the present dispassionate writer is fully entitled."—Monthly Review, LXXX. 441. The "Critical Review" says that "there arises some suspicion that Dr. Gordon actually wrote under the influence of American prejudice." A suspicion which might perhaps have been confirmed had the reviewer been aware that the author was aided by Thomas Jefferson. See Tucker's "Life," Vol. I. 260. Prof. Smyth characterizes the work as "an immense collection of facts presented with great impartiality." Sedgwick, in his "Life of Livingston" (see pp. 128, 208) says, Gordon is generally inaccurate, and Bancroft, Vol. IV. 376, calls him inquisitive, but credulous. See also Rich's "Bib. This "Briefe Narration of the Originall Undertakings of the Advancement of Plantations in America," was printed in the "Maine Hist. Soc. Coll.," Vol. II., also, "Mass. Hist. Soc. Coll.," Vol. VI., Third Series. "These four works were all printed separately (the second and third in 1658), but I believe are always found together. There is an Index at the end, which refers to the four parts, but without any distinguishing mark, by which the reader may ascertain in which book the article referred to is to be found. It is altogether a very singular performance, containing a great deal of important information relative to the early history of New England, and particularly of the district of Maine, which was granted originally to the author's grandfather, by whom the second work was written. Not the least singular circumstance relating to this work, perhaps, is the manner in which Ferdinando Gorges, Esq., has appropriated to himself the authorship of a work written by another, as appears by the following extract from Prince's 'New England.': 'When I went to England, I met with a great variety of Books and Pamphlets relating to this country. Among others, in a history of New England, from 1628 to 1651, printed in 4to, London, 1654, I found many particulars of the beginning of our several churches, towns and colonies, which appear in no other writer. The running title of the book is, 'Wonder working Providence,' &c., and in the genuine title-page no author is named. Some of the books were faced with a false title-page, wherein the work is wrongly assigned to Sir F. Gorges: but the true author was Mr. Johnson, of Woburn, in New England, as the late Judge Sewall assured me, as of a thing familiarly known among the fathers of the Massachusett's Colony.' The third of these books being neither more nor less than the identical history of New England, with merely a new title-page and dedication. The first and second books are spoken of in the 'North American Review,' Vol. II., p. 289, &c., but in an inverted order. The title of the first book, as given there, is the same as the title to the third, in my copy. Besides the map, there is a portrait of a young Indian woman, with a human leg in her hand; a folded plate, inscribed AMERICA.

'Tis I, in tempting divers, for to try,
By sundry meanes, t' obtaine me, caus' de them dye;
And, last discover'd, undiscover'd am;
For men, to treade my soyle, as yet, are lame."

[GORTON (S.)] An Antidote against the Common Plague of the World, or an Answer to a small Treatise (as in water face answereth to face), entituled Saltmarsh returned from the Dead; and by transplacing the letters of his name, is Smartlash, ascend unto the Throne of Equity, for the Arraignment of false Interpretours of the Word of God. Summoning out of all the Ages to appear under Penalty of Death, challenging the Consent, or forbidding to gainsay the common approved Priesthood of this Age. London: Printed by J. M., for A. C. 1657. 4to, pp. 18, 62, 296, Addenda, (3), Appendix, 30. 28041

A very curious volume, with long epistle dedicatory to Oliver Cromwell, signed Samuel Gorton, and appendix of certain copies of letters which passed betwixt the penman of this treatise and certain men nearly come out of Old England into New, and imprisoned in the common goal of Boston (being Quakers), lest the churches of New England should be defiled with error. The letters are dated from Warwick, in the Nanhyganset Bay, Sept. 16, 1656, and the answers signed by W. Brend, Thos. Thurston, Christopher Holder, and John Copeland. The addenda of three pages consists of faults in printing "Saltmarsh returned." See Bartlett's "Bibliography of Rhode Island."

GORTON. An Incorruptible Key composed of the CX. Psalme, wherewith You may open the rest of the Holy Scriptures; Turning itselfe onely according to the Composure and Art of that Lock, of the Closure and Secrecy of that great Mystery of God manifest in the Flesh, but justified only by the Spirit which it evidently Openeth and Revealeth out of Fall and Resurrection; ... By Samuel Gorton, Gent., and at the time of the penning hereof, in the Place of Judicature (upon Aquethneck, alias Road Island) of Providence Plantations in the Nanhygansett Bay, New England. Printed in the Yeere 1647. 4to, pp. (2), 6, (24), 120, 119. B. 28042

Appears to have been written at the request of some hearers of Mr. Cotton, who were dissatisfied with his exposition of this Scripture. Query—Is there any record of Mr. Cotton's exposition beyond what is contained in Gorton's animadversions? See Bartlett's "Bibliography of Rhode Island."

[GORTON.] Saltmarsh returned from the Dead. In amico Philalethe, or, the Resurrection of James the Apostle, out of the grave of Cavnall Glosses, for the Correction of the Universall Apostacy, which cruelly buryed him, who yet liveth. Appearing in the comely Ornaments of his Fifth Chapter, in an Exercise, June 4, 1654. Having laid by his grave clothes, in a despised village remote from England, but wishing well, and heartily desiring the true Prosperity thereof. London: Printed for Giles Calvert, and are to be sold at the black Spread Eagle, at the west end of Pauls. 1655. 4to, pp. xiv, 198. J.C.B. 28043

Five pages of errata are printed at the end of the "Incorruptible Key."

[GORTON.] Simplicities Defence | against | Seven-headed Policy. | Or | Innocency Vindicated, | being unjustly Accused, | and sorely Censured, by that | Seven-headed Church-Government | United in | New-England: | or | That Servant so Imperious in his Masters Absence | Revived, and now thus re-acting in Nevv-England. | Or | The combate of the United Colonies, not onely against | some of the Natives and Subjects, but against the Authority also | of the Kingdome of England, | with their execution of Laws, in the name and | Authority of the Servant, (or of themselves) and not in the Name and | Authority of the Lord, or fountain of the Government. | Wherein is declared an Act of a great people and Country | of the Indians in those parts, both Princes and People (unanimously) | in their voluntary Submission and Subjection unto the Protection | and Government of Old England (from the Fame they hear thereof) toge- | ther with the true manner and forme of it, as it appears under their own | hands and seals, being stirred up, and provoked thereto, by | the Combate and Courses above-said. | Throughout which Treatise is secretly intermingled, that | great Opposition, which is in the goings forth of those two grand | Spirits, that are, and ever have been, extant in the World | (through the sons of men) from the beginning and | foundation thereof. | London. | Printed by John Macock, and are to be sold by Luke Favvne, | at his shop in Pauls Church yard, at the sign of the Parrot. 1646. | 4to, pp. (16), 111. B., C., H.

"This very rare and important volume contains the entire early history of the settlement of Warwick, Rhode Island, including the treaties with the Indian Princes, with facsimiles of their 'Markes;' the ordinances issued against Gorton at Boston, and the various documents necessary to substantiate the claims of the Colony, against the persecutions of the Governor and Council. John Cotton seems to have played an important part in these transactions."—STEVENS. It was reproduced with the following title:

[GORTON.] Simplicities Defence against Seven-headed Policy, or a True Complaint of a Peaceable People, Being Part of the English in New England, Made unto the State of Old England, Against Cruell Persecutors, United in Church Government in those parts. Wherein is made manifest the manifold Outrages, Cruelties, Oppressions and Taxations, by cruell and close Imprisonments, Fire and Sword, Deprivation of Goods, Lands, and Livelyhood; and such like Barbarous Inhumanities, exercised upon the People of Providence Plantations in the Nanhyganset Bay, by those of the Massachusetts, with the rest of the United Colonies, stretching themselves beyond the bounds of all their own jurisdictions, perpetrated and acted in such an unreasonable and barbarous manner, as many thereby have lost their lives. As it hath been faithfully declared to the Honorable Committee of Lords and Commons for Forrain Plantations; whereupon they gave present order for redress. The sight and consideration whereof hath moved a great Country of the Indians and Natives in those parts, Princes and people, to submit unto the Crown of England, and earnestly to sue to the State thereof, for Safeguard and Shelter from like Cruelties. London: Printed by John Macock, and are to be sold by George Wittington, at the Blue Anchor, neer the Royal Exchange, in Cornhill. 1647. 4to. 28045

GRACIE (Pierre) dit Ferrande. Grant Routier et Pilotage et enseignement pour ancrer tant es portez, haures, que autres lieux de la mer. Rouen, pour J. Burges. 1525. 4to. 28189

First edition, with very rude woodcuts representing the shapes of headlands and harbors, with the objects visible upon them from the sea; very rare. "There is little to connect this work with America, but as it is an early Mariner's Guide-book, and contains at least a mention of the New World, which has not been discovered by the bibliographers, it deserves a place in this list. On the reverse of T i, the author refers to the wanderings of sailors, 'es terres neufves, es isles trouvees, es isles de madere, es isles novantes.' His superstitions, his rude spelling and language, his description of the English coasts (including the isle doukic, in which the Isle of Wight is sadly disguised), make the volume an interesting one for the English collector. This edition is mentioned by Brunet as having fetched £16 at one of Libri's sales. The work is full of curious maritime information, and was composed at St. Gilles in 1483–84, but was not published till the year 1525, as will appear by the preface to the Calendar (T i reverse) 'Et ya de temps depuys quil nasquit jusques a cette annee Mil cinq centz xxv.' The first example in the Calendar refers to the year 1521, through which Brunet has fallen into error with regard to the age of the undated edition, which he places before this. The citation from Du Verdier of a Poitiers edition of 1520, is probably no less incorrect as to date, and we must look upon the Rouen edition of 1525 as the Princeps, until there is satisfactory evidence of an earlier."—QUARITCH's Catalogue.

Purports to be "an account or history of the early people of Mexico, from the first coming of the great Toltec nation to Anahuac to the present time, in the form of a dialogue between an Indian and a Spaniard. The author lived in Michoacan, and was guardian of a convent and superintendent of the Missions among the Indians in that department. The work contains much respecting the early Mexican Archæology and Antiquities. It is a book of some rarity, and seems to have escaped the notice of Clavigero. It has lately been reprinted in Mexico, edited by Bustamente."—J. R. BARTLETT. "A scarce and curious work relating to the early history of the Mexicans, unknown to Clavigero, and not mentioned by Meusel."—RICH. Prescott refers to it as containing the original Mexican text of the Poems of Ixtlilxochitl, &c. It is styled by Salva, "Ouvrage aussi rare qu'important pour connaitre à fond l'histoire primitive de la Nouvelle Espagne." See Leclerc's Catalogue, No. 1147. Fischer's copy sold for £4 15s.

[GRAYDON.] Memoirs of a Life, Chiefly Passed in Pennsylvania, within the Last Sixty Years. Edinburgh: Blackwood. 1822. 8vo, pp. vii, 431. 28419

This edition was edited by John Galt, and owing to this circumstance it is often catalogued as by Galt. The author was a captain in the United States army (not in the navy, as stated by Allen). J. Galt says "it is, perhaps, the best personal narrative that has yet appeared relative to the history of that great conflict which terminated in establishing the independence of the United States. The "Quarterly Review" (xxvi., p. 364) calls Mr. Galt to account, for his high opinion of this work, which, it "ventures to pronounce to be in matter almost worthless, and in manner wholly contemptible. See "M. Rev.," New Series, May, 1822, and Rich, Vol. II.

Also the Manners and Customs of the Several Inhabitants; their Religion and Government, Arts and Sciences, Trades and Manufactures: ... London: Printed for Thomas Astley. M.DCC.XLV–VII. 4 vols., 4to, pp. (24), 680, Frontispiece; (12), 730; (8), 605, Frontispiece; (14), 751; Index 21 l. 227 Maps and Plates. H. 28539

Usually known as Astley's Collection. It was originally published in weekly numbers, and gave rise to the more extensive collection of the Abbé Prévost. Other editions were issued by substituting a new title-page only. The project was grand, and the execution, so far as it goes, is admirable, but so far as "Americana" is concerned it is of little value. It includes the Voyage of Capt. George Roberts to the Canaries, and Bermuda in 1721; and a Voyage to Guinea, Brazil, and the West Indies in 1721, by John Atkins. The contents of these volumes have been translated three times, twice into French and once into Dutch. They form the first nine volumes of Abbé Prévost's "Histoire des Voyages," published at Paris, 1746–89, in 20 vols., 4to, also in 18mo.

In which it is clearly demonstrated, that the Troubles and Confusion which have so long subsisted in that Island, to the Distraction of Government, and to the irreparable Loss of the long-suffering Inhabitants, took their Rise, originally and solely from the arbitrary and partial Disposition of Governor M——ll; from his total Ignorance of the British Constitution, and the Interests of the People whom he was appointed to govern; and from his perverting or dispensing with the Laws. And that these Disturbances have since been kept up by a continuance of the same causes, ... London: W. Nicoll. MDCCLXX. 8vo, pp. 123, Appendix, 91. H. 28749

The Laws of the Legislature of the Islands of Grenada and the Grenadines. Grenada: Printed for Alexander Middleton. MDCCLXXVIII. 2 vols., folio, pp. 294, Index, 22 l. · Vol. II.: MDCCLXXIX. pp. 289, Index, 7 l. H. 28754

A rare and beautifully printed volume. In speaking of the book, Mr. Rich adds the following from a manuscript note: "This book is so rare that the author of the new edition never saw it. See his preface. The reason of its rarity, is the French capturing the island a few months after it was printed, and of course destroying them. This is supposed to be the only copy in England."

The Laws of Grenada, from 1763 to 1805, with Tables of all the Statutes passed in that Period, and of all the Originals yet remaining in the Public Office, and Index of Contents, Collected and Arranged by George Smith. 1808. 4to. 28755

The Laws of Grenada and the Grenadines, from the Year 1766: in which those Acts and Parts of Acts, only, are printed, which were in force at the period of the publication of this work. A Narrative of the Proceedings upon the Complaint against Governor Melvill. London: T. Becket and P. A. De Hondt. MDCCLXX. 8vo, pp. xlviii, 132. H., M. 28759

Eight charges were preferred against Governor Melvill, from which it appears that he was guilty of illegal, grievous, cruel, oppressive, and unjust acts towards his Majesty's subjects. He was, however, acquitted. The charges, the reply, and all the proceedings in the case are set forth in this volume.

G[RENVILLE]. A Letter to G. G. "Stiff in Opinions, always in the Wrong." London: J. Williams. MDCCLXVII. 8vo, pp. (4), 96. 28766

"This letter to Lord George Grenville, if not the most elegant, or the most correct of our late political disquisitions, is one of the most solid and most intelligent, and is evidently the produce of no vulgar pen, no ill-instructed hand. It is intended as an answer to some publications in defense of Mr. Grenville's ministerial measures."—Monthly Review, XXXVII. 143. The letter is dated Richmond, January 18, 1767, relates entirely to American affairs, and is signed L.

Portrait of John Law and 73 Plates. A., C. 28932

This great Theatre of Folly, representing the origin, progress, and downfall of the South Sea Bubble in France, England, and Holland, is an exceedingly curious collection of emblematical plates and caricatures on the scheme of J. Law and the Mississippi Company and the imitations of it in Holland, with their fatal results. Not a few of the scenes here depicted have been reproduced in the New York Exchange. The engravings, which illustrate the rise and fall of the great speculation, are full of humor; many of them are exceedingly ludicrous, and some very obscene. They are finely engraved on copper, and are accompanied with full descriptions in prose and poetry. So much offence was given to the English and French by this book that medals were struck by them in ridicule of the Dutch, which was perhaps the beginning of the hostility which long existed in the minds of the English against the latter. The number of the plates in copies varies from sixty to seventy-four.

Reasons for keeping Guadaloupe at a Peace, preferable to Canada, explained in Five Letters from a Gentleman in Guadaloupe, to his Friend in London. London: M. Cooper. M. DCC.-LXI. 8vo, pp. 79. 29044

The writer thinks that it is more desirable that Great Britain should retain Guadaloupe than Canada. The former, he thinks, can furnish as much sugar, cotton, rum, and coffee, as all the islands we have put together, and consume a vast quantity of British goods, while the latter can yield but little extension of the fur trade. He thinks, too, that if the French are permitted to hold Canada, they will be a check upon the British colonies and prevent a revolt, an event which he thought very distant. See "Monthly Review," Vol. xxiv., p. 440.

tion, by Charles S. Cheltnam. London: Richard Bentley and Son. 1871. Post 8vo, pp. x, 375. Map. 29242

"The English translator speaks with some confidence of the authenticity and truthfulness of M. Guinnard's narration of the incidents of his captivity, and I am inclined to believe them veritable, but it lacks so notably that Anglo-Saxon simplicity, which marks and distinguishes unalloyed historical relations, that we may subject it to an unjust suspicion. With true French exaltation of style, he so begilds his narrative, as to give his true story the color of fiction. It is, however, a very valuable collection of material relative to the habits, religion, and mode of life of the but little known race of savages inhabiting the vast Pampas between Buenos Ayres, Chili, and Northern Patagonia."—T. During the war between Great Britain and Spain in 1762, the port of Havana was surrendered to the English. These documents, described in 29458 and 29459, embrace the defence of the Spanish officers who were in command at the time, and who surrendered the city, the proceedings of the Court of Inquiry on the capitulation, with various letters and papers connected therewith. The city was restored to Spain the following year. They are without place or date, and were evidently intended only for the court and government, and not for sale. The proceedings took place in 1764. Two other documents on the subject are thus described in the Sobolewski Catalogue: Satisfaccion del coronel D. Dion. Soler à los cargos del Señor fiscal, de la junta de guerra formada de ordende S. M. para conocer de la defensa, rendicion y perdida de aquella plaza. pp. 36.—Satisfaccion del conde de Superunda, theniente general, y Virrey del Peru, etc. pp. 42.

[HAKLUYT (Richard).] Divers | voyages, touching the discouerie of | America, and the Ilands adiacent | vnto the same, made first of all by our | Englishmen, and afterward by the French- | men and Britons: | And certaine notes of aduertisements for obserua- | tions, necessarie for such as shall heereafter | make the like attempt. | With two mappes, annexed heereunto for the | plainer vnderstanding of the whole matter. | Imprinted at Lon- | don for Thomas Woodcocke, | dwelling in paules Church-yard, | at the signe of the blacke beare. | 1582. | [Colophon:] Imprinted at London, at the | three Cranes, in the Vine- | tree, by Thomas Daw- | son. | 1582. | 4to, Title, Names of Travellers, Dedication to Sir Philip Sydney, signed R. H., Patent to Cabot, Note on Cabot, Thorne's Address, To Dr. Ley, in all 16 leaves, Text, 37 leaves. 2 Maps. BA., H., J.C.B., H.C.M. 29592

A tract of excessive rarity, only one or two perfect copies being known, and of the deepest interest, having been published for the purpose of inducing the English nation to establish colonies in America. It is Hakluyt's first publication. The "two mappes" mentioned in the title are rarely found with the work. The first of these is introduced with a notice: "This is the Forme of a Mappe sent 1527, from Sivill in Spayne, by Maister R. Thorne, Merchaunt, &c." The second, is dedicated to Sir Philip Sydney by "Michael Lok"—1582. It relates to attempts to discover a North-west passage, the discoveries of the Cabots, Ribault's adventures in Florida, &c., from the scarce English edition of 1563, which Hakluyt omitted in his later collections; and contains the first translation into English of the letter attributed to Verazzano. See Ribault (J.) It was reprinted with the following title:

Map, entitled "Typvs Orbis Terrarvm." [Colophon:] Imprinted at London by the | Deputies of Christopher Barker, Printer to|the Queenes most excellent Maiestie.|Anno Dom. 1589.| H.

This is the first edition of Hakluyt's collection of voyages, which, in their second form, were recast and amplified into three volumes, as described infra. At p. 597 there should be a map 25¼ by 17¼ inches, which can be recognized by the royal arms and the word Virginia, and references to the recent expeditions sent thither by Sir Walter Raleigh, but it is rarely found with the work, and there is sometimes substituted another edition of the same map from the English version of Linschoten's Voyages, and occasionally a half-sheet woodcut map entitled "A general map made onelye for the particular declaration of this Discovery," to illustrate Sir Humfrey Gilbert's Discourse to prove a passage by the North-west to Cathaia and the East Indies; it belongs to Sir Humfrey Gilbert's Discourse described in our Vol. IV., supra. The uncertainty as to the map arises perhaps from the fact that the one which was at first intended to be inserted does not appear to have been published. Hakluyt, at the end of his preface, says: "I have contented myselfe with inserting into the worke one of the best general mappes of the world onely, vntill the comming out of a very large and most exact terrestriall Globe, collected and reformed according to the newest, secretest, and latest discoueries ... composed by M. Emmerie Mollineux, of Lambeth, a rare Gentleman in his profession, being therein for diuers yeeres, greatly supported by the purse and liberalitie of the worshipfull marchant M. William Sanderson." The voyage of Sir Jerome Bowes, Knight, to Muscovy in 1582, was in some particulars erroneous; it was, therefore, "printed this second time, according to the True copie, I received of a gentleman that went in the same voyage, for the correction of the errors in the former impression." This reprinted portion commences at p. 491 and ends at p. 501; thus concluding the second part. The third part beginning at p. 506. Hakluyt, on the last page of his address "to the Reader," notices with regret his being compelled to comply with the request of certain friends, in the suppression of Sir Francis Drake's Voyage, "wherein I must confesse to have taken more than ordinarie paines, meaning to have inserted it in this worke." He, however, appears to have printed a few copies privately; and the Voyage thus suppressed, is sometimes inserted after p. 643. This portion consists of three sheets, or six leaves, bearing the signatures M m m. 4, 5, and 6; followed by a broadside or sheet, a Journal or Extract, from the Logbook of the Voyage, from the departure from Plymouth Road, September 14, 1585, the progress minutely detailed till the return to Portsmouth, July 22, 1586. This sheet is of extreme rarity. It is scarcely necessary to suggest that the addition of the original version of Bowes' and Drake's Voyages add greatly to the value of any copy of the work in which they happen to be. "His volume contains an invaluable treasure of material information, which even at this day affix to the name of Hakluyt a brilliancy of reputation which a series of ages can never efface or obscure."—ZOUCH's Life of Sir Philip Sidney.

HAKLUYT. The | Principal Navi- | gations, Voiages, | Traffiqves and Disco- | ueries of the English Nation, made by Sea | or ouer-land, to the remote, and farthest di- | stant quarters of the Earth, on any time within | the compasse of these 1500 yeeres; Deuided | into three seuerall volumes, according to the | positions of the Regions, whereunto | they were directed. This first volume containing the woorthy Discoueries, | &c., of the English toward the North and Northest by Sea, | as of Lapland, Scriksinia, Corelia, the Baie of S. Nicolas, the Isles of Col- | goieue, Vaigatz, and Noua Zembla, toward the great riuer Ob, | with the the mighty Empire of Russia, the Caspian Sea, Geor- | gia, Armenia, Media, Persia, Boghar in Bactria, | and diuers kingdoms of Tartaria; | Together with many notable monuments and testimo- | nies of the ancient forren trades, and of the warrelike and | other shipping of this realme of England in former ages. | VVhereunto is annexed also a briefe Commentarie of the true | state of Island, and of the Northren Seas and | lands situate that way. | And, lastly, the memorable defeate of the Spanish huge | Armada, Anno 1588. and the famous victorie | atchieued at the citie of Cadiz, 1596. | are described. By Richard Haklvyt Master of | Artes, and sometime Student of Christ- | Church in Oxford. |

Imprinted at London by George | Bishop Ralph Newberie and Robert Barker. | 1598. | Folio, Title, Dedication, Preface, Sonnets, and Catalogue, pp. (24), 619. 29595

This is the title of the first issue of the first volume of this amplified edition of the former work. The original voyage to Cadiz, on p. 607, was suppressed by order of Queen Elizabeth, on the disgrace of Essex, and is therefore often supplied by a reprint. Owing to this suppression the title was changed in the particulars indicated in the following title, in which we have omitted only such words as are mere repetitions of the former title; it will be noticed there is no mention of the voyage to Cadiz.

HAKLUYT. The | Principal Navi- | gations, Voyages, | Traffiqves and Discove- | ries of the English Nation, ... at any time within the compasse of these 1600 yeres: | ... The first Volume containeth the worthy Discoueries | &c. of the English ... . | VVhereunto is annexed a briefe Commentary of the true state of Island, ... As also the | memorable defeat of the Spanish huge Armada, Anno 1588. | ¶ The second Volume comprehendeth the principall | Nauigations, Voyages, Traffiques, and discoueries of the English | Nation made by Sea or ouer-land, to the South and South-east | parts of the World, as well within as without the Streight of | Gibraltar, at any time within the compasse of these 1600. | yeres: Diuided into two seueral parts, &c. | ¶ By Richard Hakluyt Preacher, and | sometime Student of Christ-Church, in Oxford. | Imprinted at London by George | Bishop, Ralph Newberie, | and Robert Barker. | Anno 1599. | Folio, pp. (24), 619.

It will be observed that this title-page includes an abridgment of the title which follows. We may add that Vols. I. and II. are usually found together when in their original binding, and should, in fact, be so bound.

HAKLUYT. Folio, Title, Dedication, and Catalogue, pp. (18), 868. H. 29598

A fine set of this grand series of Voyages is one of the desiderata in an American collection. The largest I have seen, measured 12⅛ by 8¼ inches, and contained many rough leaves; the third volume in the set referred to measured only 11⅞ by 7¾ inches, and that had many rough leaves, which circumstance, inclines me to believe that vols. I. and II. were printed on paper somewhat larger than the third. It is difficult to overrate the importance and value of this extraordinary collection of voyages. Mr. Bancroft characterizes "Richard Hakluyt as the enlightened friend and able documentary historian of these commercial enterprises, a man whose fame should be vindicated and asserted in the land which he helped to colonize," while Oldys, in his British Library, devotes fifty pages to an analysis of his works, and remarks that his collection "redounds as much to the glory of the English nation as any book that ever was published," and Mr. Dibdin is in an ecstacy of delight in his famous passage, beginning "All hail to thee, Richard Hakluyt," &c. The great rarity and value of the series suggested the following edition:

HAKLUYT. Hakluyt's Collection of the Early Voyages, Travels, and Discoveries of the English Nation. A New Edition, with Additions. London: R. H. Evans. 1809–12. 5 vols., 4to, pp. xxvii, (5), 670; (4), ix, (viii), 684; viii, (viii), 623; (6), 612; (4), v, 595; (4), 595. B., BA., H. 29599

This is an accurate reprint of the 3 vols., folio, 1598–1600, with the addition of those voyages which were published in the first edition and omitted in the second, also, a supplement containing all the voyages and travels printed by Hakluyt or at his suggestion. 325 copies only were printed, of which 75 are on large paper. This reprint is now very scarce, and commands more than its original price. An additional number of copies of vol. v. were printed with the following title:

HAKLUYT. A Selection of Curious, Rare, and Early Voyages and Histories of Interesting Discoveries, chiefly published by Hakluyt, or at his suggestion, but not included in his celebrated compilation, to which, to Purchas and other General Collections, this is intended as a Supplement. London: R. H. Evans. 1812. 4to, pp. 807. B., C., S. 29600

Contains fourteen rare works not easily accessible in any other form, and is quite as important as either of the volumes published in his time. It includes "Virginia Richly Valued," Anghiera's "West Indies," &c. Hakluyt was the translator of other works which we have already noticed. See our Vol. I., No. 1564; Vol. VI., Nos. 24896, 24897; Laudonniere (M.), and Ribault (J.), infra.

This Society was formed in 1847, and has, up to this date, 1875, published about forty volumes. A detailed list will be found in Part xi. of Bohn's Edition of Lowndes' "Manual." It is a very desirable series of books, and so many as relate to American topics are described in this dictionary under the names of their respective authors.

These very clever sketches of Yankee and colonial life are, of course, somewhat overdrawn. They were immensely and deservedly popular, for under the guise of satire there was a rich vein of sound practical common sense. They first appeared in a Nova Scotian newspaper, from which they were reprinted into a 12mo volume, which I have not seen, and afterwards repeatedly reprinted both in England and the United States. The first American edition of the first series was printed Philadelphia: Lea & Blanchard. 1837. 12mo. They have been reprinted in London in Bentley's "Cabinet Library," also, by Hurst and Blackett, in post 8vo, by Routledge, in 12mo; in Concord: William White. 1838. 18mo, pp. vi, 262.
